- 1 SGT BARNES: Now do you understand your rights as I just explained them to you?
- 2 MISS PARKER: Yes. Now where are they? You can tell me.
I already know about them. I won't complain or do anything about them. I'm just curious.
- 3 SGT BARNES: I'm sorry, where's what exactly?
- 4 MISS PARKER: You don't have to act like you don't know. They're listening in right this moment, aren't they? I can see through your cover. You don't have to hide them. Besides, we're on the same side here.
- 5 SGT BARNES: Miss Parker, I have honestly no idea what you are talking about.
- 6 MISS PARKER: Do I have to spell it out? The micro drones!
- 7 SGT BARNES: Miss Parker, I assure you there are no drones in this room. You are only being recorded on this tape right here, nothing else.
- 8 MISS PARKER: Sure, sure.
- 9 SGT BARNES: Miss Parker -
- 10 MISS PARKER: You don't have to call me 'miss'. I rather identify as 'enlightened'.
- 11 SGT BARNES: Ok -- Meili, I would like to talk to you about what happened last Wednesday night and the murder of your friend, Miss Fisher. Could you please tell me, in your own words, what occurred that day?
- 12 MISS PARKER: Sure. I arrived at the cafe at 290 moon.
That's what you would call half past seven. Isiah wasn't there. He usually meets up with us a bit later. But the others were already there. We went to get some drinks. Not that I drink. As enlightened I am beyond that. But Lis stayed in the room. Some of the others went outside for a smoke. Something I would never do. It messes with your solar field. When I returned to the room I found Lis lying like that. She was already gone. I couldn't sense her anymore.

13 SGT BARNES: How long have you known Miss Fisher?

14 MISS PARKER: We actually met before Monomazi. We go to the same university.

15 SGT BARNES: I've heard you're doing quite well in your studies, even though you've enrolled for -- three programs?

16 MISS PARKER: Yeah, just three I'm afraid. I had to cancel anthropology. They said they couldn't make the class schedules work. But it's alright. The program wouldn't have supported my views anyway.

17 SGT BARNES: And how was Miss Fisher faring?

18 MISS PARKER: She was doing really well. She told me she aced her rhetorics exam.

19 SGT BARNES: Were there ever any feelings of competition between you two? It can't have been easy being friends with someone that has your IQ.

20 MISS PARKER: People do say that about me - not being easy to be with, but no, there wasn't any competition between us.

21 SGT BARNES: How do you feel about the Monomazi program?

22 MISS PARKER: It's not in line with Tiangoah, but my parents really wanted me to enter. I did meet Kala, Isiah and Paul through it. So not all bad.

23 SGT BARNES: What's Tiangoah?

24 MISS PARKER: It's what binds us all. It's the conception that all matter is in fact not physical, but virtual - a field, as physicist call it. And we are all part of that field. Some people call it the soul. You can feel it. We all can. It's what we enlightened call our solar field. It allows us to communicate with beings from outside our solar system, outside our realm, outside -

25 SGT BARNES: Thank you, thank you, never mind that question. How do you spell it? With an 'I' or an 'Y'?

26 MISS PARKER: Neither actually, in Karsaor it's spelled with this.

27 SGT BARNES: Miss Parker is drawing a symbol on a piece of paper. It looks like an euro symbol that's been rotated some -- 200 degrees.

- 28       MISS PARKER:     It stands for unity. I guess you would call it an 'I'.
- 29       SGT BARNES:     Ok, thank you Miss Parker. I've got one last question for you. -- I'm now showing Miss Parker evidence piece number 154. Do you know who the red player is, Miss Parker?
- 30       MISS PARKER:     I told you: it's Meili, but I'm afraid I don't. We never got to finish our game.
- 31       SGT BARNES:     Thank you Meili, that will be all.
